Course Section Legend

Effective Fall 2024

Identifier	Section Information
100-199	Standard Content
300-399	Competency Based Education
400-499	Multi-Modal
500-599	Independent Studies
600-699	Special Content
700-799	Online – Synchronous
800-899	Online – Asynchronous
A	1st half-term section
B	2nd half-term section
K	Non-standard schedule section

There is no longer a separate number or letter identifier for the following types of sections:
- Traditional (100% on campus)
- Blended (50% or more on campus/less than 50% online),
- Hybrid (50% or more online/less than 50% on campus)
- Located off Main Campus

Sections 100-699 may be delivered as traditional, blended, or hybrid.

Sections 400-499 are multi-modal, which means that class will be scheduled and held on campus, but students will have the option to join the class session via online platform or video conferencing.

Sections 600-699 are special content sections that differ from the standard content sections; for more information look at the section's printed comments.

Example:
➢ CIS-110-100 is a standard Windows Operating System-based Intro to Computers section
➢ CIS-110-600 is a special Apple Operating System-based Intro to Computers section

Pay attention to a section's meeting schedule in Navigate to determine at which campus it is located and if it has an online component.

You can also check the delivery method and location listed on the Course Schedule (click HERE).

Note about Global Courses: As of 2024FA, sections will no longer be denoted as Global via a section identifier. All sections of Global courses will be eligible for Global distinction. Global courses are marked as such in the Forsyth Tech Catalog (click HERE).
